LOCAL BAKERS RETURN FROM STATE CONFERENCE

Messrs. H. J. Simpson and A. L. Salzer, the local bakers, returned this morning from a state conference of bakers in Atlanta. The conference was called by the state food administrator for the purpose of discussing particularly the flour situation. These gentlemen state that it is common belief among those who attended the conference that our people have not yet been called upon to make sacrifices in the food line that in any way compare with the war is over. The hundred or more bakers who attended the meeting pledged themselves to do all in their power to conserve the wheat supply, and to assist others as much as possible to do so.

DELIGHTFUL ENTERTAINMENT

The play at the school auditorium last Friday evening by the pupils of the graduating class, under the direction of Miss Mary Lou Carmichael, is commonly agreed to have been one of the most pleasing entertainments by local talent with which our people have ever been favored.

The play, "Somewhere in France," was staged, accompanied by a musical program which added to the pleasure of the occasion. More than $100 was raised at the door for the benefit of the school publication, for which it was presented.

Milk is a conveyor of disease unless it is clean and pure. It is a source of consumption, scarlet fever, diphtheria, septic sore throat, typhoid fever and summer complaints of babies. It is said to be responsible for more sickness and deaths than all other foodstuffs put together.

Keep it pure and clean or give it to the hogs.

BIG DRIVE TO RAISE WAR STAMP QUOTA

GREAT STATE ORGANIZATION TO BE PERFECTED JUNE 28 TO COMPLETE CAMPAIGN.

Atlanta, May 21.—On the afternoon of Friday, June 28, at 2 o'clock, the citizens of Georgia will assemble in mass meeting in school houses over the state and subscribe Georgia's quota of War Savings Stamps, which is $57,500,000, or more than half as much as the third Liberty Loan quota of the entire sixth federal reserve district, comprising six states.

On the same day and at the same hour citizens of every state in the union will assemble in mass meetings in their school houses, or other suitable meeting places, for the same purpose.

The day and the hour will be officially set apart for War Savings Stamps subscriptions by national, state and local proclamations, and the whole campaign will be carried on till that date will be focused upon the object of securing a big attendance at every mass meeting, and securing pledges to cover the War Savings Stamp quota of every community in every state throughout the nation.

Hugh H. Richardson, state director for War Savings Stamp in Georgia, is now perfecting a complete organization in every congressional district and every county in the state. Twelve prominent business men have been appointed and will devote their entire time for six weeks to the work of heading up a thorough and efficient organization in the twelve congressional districts. Each county chairman will divide his county into equal parts and appoint a captain in command of each. The captains will appoint lieutenants, and these will appoint sub-lieutenants in every militia district.

War Savings Stamp quotas are based on $20 per capita of population, based to be taken in the course of the year. To put this quota over the top, it is necessary for many citizens to buy more than $20 worth of War Savings Stamps.

The mistaken impression has got abroad that the War Savings Stamp campaign is something for the children. The fact is that the campaign is not only a man's job, but a big man's job, and the men of the nation in Washington have launched the plan of nation-wide mass meetings on June 28 as a means of putting it over without further loss of time.

To address the mass meetings in Georgia it will be necessary to secure 6,000 speakers. Philip Wellner, the well-known Atlanta lawyer, has been placed in charge of this work, and through the county chairmen he will arrange for speakers throughout the state.

Jack Carr, an experienced and successful advertising man, has been in charge of the publicity department, embracing news, advertising, poster displays, literature, and all other details.

The campaign will be pushed with the utmost vigor, and Georgia's quota will be put over the top in the hands of the unknown parties.

Eaton was shot twice while he was alone in his home at night and his dead body was not discovered until several days afterwards.

Friday evening Sheriff Turner received the following telegram from Sheriff Gladders: "Do you want Guy Marshall? If so, answer, stating reward and reason."

Sheriff Turner thereupon wired the Rockford official telling him of the Eaton murder and the disappearance of Marshall. It was in answer to this message that Sheriff Gladders telegraphed a copy of the young man's arrest there and his confession.

Sheriff Turner left last night for Rockford to bring Marshall back to Dawson. Superior court convenes in regular session here Monday, and it is expected that the grand jury will promptly investigate the matter.

SCHOOL TAX ELECTION.

The people of Bulloch county outside of the city of Statesboro will, on May 29th, vote on the subject of county-wide taxation for schools.

Because the tax should carry, we feel sure that it will.

As a citizen outside of the territory affected by the proposition, it may seem that we should not be concerned in the outcome. But every citizen of the county is directly concerned.

As good schools build up communities, so do they build up entire counties. No progress or advancement can come to any part of Bulloch county without affecting the whole county. Those districts where local taxation has existed are of one accord in praise of the plan. They would not have it repeated.

They know the advantages which come by the law, and are standing for a wider application of it as promised under a county-wide system.

The point has heretofore been made that improved schools are an asset to the property interests of the county. No man would carry his family to make their home in a community that had no schools—the better the schools are, the more valuable property is in those communities. The man who is paying a school tax, is paying to enhance the value of his property.

No man would carry his family to make their home in a community that had no schools—the better the schools are, the more valuable property is in those communities. The man who is paying a school tax, is paying to enhance the value of his property.

There may be no such thing as absolute selfishness. That which a man may gladly do without hope of direct betterment to himself, he does possibly for the pleasure that comes to him from helping others. Whether a man is selfish or not, there is every reason to vote for the school tax. It not only means good to him, but it means vast good to his community.

Those who seem to reap the most direct benefit from the school tax, often are least able to pay the tax to support them; yet the man who pays the greatest tax really is the greatest beneficiary in dollars and cents. Every tax receipt is a boost for his community and his own property—for every dollar he pays in increased taxes, his land goes up a hundred dollars. The man who lives only for today has his reward, while the man who lives for the future and his family and country has a double reward.

Had you made up your mind to go and vote for the county-wide tax? Don't fail to do it.

BRAINS AND PATRIOTISM.

Though he continues to assert it, "Bill Sly" Howard has no more a monopoly on the brains in the Senatorial race than Candidate Harris has on the patriotism—which some of his friends are claiming for him (and not he himself).

And we find fault with both these lines of campaigning. They ought to be abandoned for bigger issues.

"Bill Sly" has been serving acceptably in congress for all these years; if he has done anything very unpatriotic, nobody has ever heard of it before he became a candidate for the Senate. If he ever has displayed an unusual amount of brain matter, it was never discovered by the common people until he confessed to its possession after he became a candidate.

He has voted for every necessary measure for carrying on the war, and has thus done his best to serve the people of his district and of the state at large. He may not have done as much as he claims to have done (few men realize how insignificant they are when they get to blowing off on their great merits), but he has not been an obstructionist. He is entitled to credit for that much.

He would not be an obstructionist if he were elected to the Senate (and he would be elected), neither do we believe he would overbalance the upper house of congress with that ponderous weight of brain about which he prates in such glowing terms. No, the Senate would know he was a member, because his name would be called and he would be required to answer to the roll call. But that is about the extent of his presence in the lower house of congress for the past sixteen years, to which fact we call on the public to bear witness.

As to Mr. Harris' loyalty, of course there is no question. He has served the President before and since he was elected. He was chairman of the Wilson club of Georgia and later of the State Democratic executive committee. He was close to the President in a personal way, and has been close to the administration in office. The President's judgment of him is that he is of even more than ordinary intellect. The President first made him director of the census of the United States, which may not have been of such importance, it is true, and later elevated him to a position on the Federal Trade Commission, which is an important work. The President believed that he had brains, and he has merited the continued confidence of the President. "Bill Sly" Howard says Mr. Harris is very light in brain matter and he is very heavy. President Wilson has said by his renewed actions of confidence that Mr. Harris is worthy to be entrusted with big work. What he thinks of Mr. Howard has not been made public. It really may not be of importance to some people, yet it is of importance that the President of the United States has found in Mr. Harris qualities which Candidate Howard denies he possesses.

TWO OF A KIND.

S. Guy McLendon and Joe Hill Hall are both in the limelight again—trying to be.

McLendon wants to beat Judge H. B. Strange for secretary of state, and Joe Hill Hall wants to put Cliff Walker out of the attorney general's job.

Both ought to fail. They are two of a kind—both "Sly" politicians.

As a citizen outside of the territory affected by the proposition, it may seem that we should not be concerned in the outcome. But every citizen of the county is directly concerned.

As good schools build up communities, so do they build up entire counties. No progress or advancement can come to any part of Bulloch county without affecting the whole county. No man would carry his family to make their home in a community that had no schools—the better the schools are, the more valuable property is in those communities. The man who is paying a school tax, is paying to enhance the value of his property.

There may be no such thing as absolute selfishness. That which a man may gladly do without hope of direct betterment to himself, he does possibly for the pleasure that comes to him from helping others. Whether a man is selfish or not, there is every reason to vote for the school tax. It not only means good to him, but it means vast good to his community.

Those who seem to reap the most direct benefit from the school tax, often are least able to pay the tax to support them; yet the man who pays the greatest tax really is the greatest beneficiary in dollars and cents. Every tax receipt is a boost for his community and his own property—for every dollar he pays in increased taxes, his land goes up a hundred dollars. The man who lives only for today has his reward, while the man who lives for the future and his family and country has a double reward.

Had you made up your mind to go and vote for the county-wide tax? Don't fail to do it.

BRAINS AND PATRIOTISM.

Though he continues to assert it, "Bill Sly" Howard has no more a monopoly on the brains in the Senatorial race than Candidate Harris has on the patriotism—which some of his friends are claiming for him (and not he himself).

And we find fault with both these lines of campaigning. They ought to be abandoned for bigger issues.

"Bill Sly" has been serving acceptably in congress for all these years; if he has done anything very unpatriotic, nobody has ever heard of it before he became a candidate for the Senate. If he ever has displayed an unusual amount of brain matter, it was never discovered by the common people until he confessed to its possession after he became a candidate.

He has voted for every necessary measure for carrying on the war, and has thus done his best to serve the people of his district and of the state at large. He may not have done as much as he claims to have done (few men realize how insignificant they are when they get to blowing off on their great merits), but he has not been an obstructionist. He is entitled to credit for that much.

He would not be an obstructionist if he were elected to the Senate (and he would be elected), neither do we believe he would overbalance the upper house of congress with that ponderous weight of brain about which he prates in such glowing terms. No, the Senate would know he was a member, because his name would be called and he would be required to answer to the roll call. But that is about the extent of his presence in the lower house of congress for the past sixteen years, to which fact we call on the public to bear witness.

As to Mr. Harris' loyalty, of course there is no question. He has served the President before and since he was elected. He was chairman of the Wilson club of Georgia and later of the State Democratic executive committee. He was close to the President in a personal way, and has been close to the administration in office. The President's judgment of him is that he is of even more than ordinary intellect. The President first made him director of the census of the United States, which may not have been of such importance, it is true, and later elevated him to a position on the Federal Trade Commission, which is an important work. The President believed that he had brains, and he has merited the continued confidence of the President. "Bill Sly" Howard says Mr. Harris is very light in brain matter and he is very heavy. President Wilson has said by his renewed actions of confidence that Mr. Harris is worthy to be entrusted with big work. What he thinks of Mr. Howard has not been made public. It really may not be of importance to some people, yet it is of importance that the President of the United States has found in Mr. Harris qualities which Candidate Howard denies he possesses.

S. Guy McLendon and Joe Hill Hall are both in the limelight again—trying to be.

McLendon wants to beat Judge H. B. Strange for secretary of state, and Joe Hill Hall wants to put Cliff Walker out of the attorney general's job.

Both ought to fail. They are two of a kind—both "Sly" politicians.

As a citizen outside of the territory affected by the proposition, it may seem that we should not be concerned in the outcome. But every citizen of the county is directly concerned.

As good schools build up communities, so do they build up entire counties. No progress or advancement can come to any part of Bulloch county without affecting the whole county. Those districts where local taxation has existed are of one accord in praise of the plan. They would not have it repeated.

They know the advantages which come by the law, and are standing for a wider application of it as promised under a county-wide system.

The point has heretofore been made that improved schools are an asset to the property interests of the county. No man would carry his family to make their home in a community that had no schools—the better the schools are, the more valuable property is in those communities. The man who is paying a school tax, is paying to enhance the value of his property.

BELIEVE FAMINE WILL HELP CRUSH GERMANY

WITNESSES SAY GERMANY WORKMEN AT THE BODY OF THEIR COMPANION.

London, May 21.—"I feel confident that the time is at hand when famine—stark medieval famine—will join the entente as a political and military ally against Germany and Austria," the correspondent of the Daily Mail telegraphs from Anne Masse, in France, near the Swiss border.

The correspondent says he draws this conclusion from oral statements by an authentic witness whose observations extend up to the end of the month of April. The great masses of German and Austrian people, this informant declares, are more than sick of the war. They think and talk of nothing but bread, and their morale is so low that the governments are fearful of Bolshevik movements.

Among the incidents given in support of the story of terrible want is the case of two prisoners of war employed at the gas works in Vienna. They had lived for weeks almost entirely on mushrooms gathered in a forest outside of the town in which he dwelt.

"People often faint in the street from hunger," he said. "The health of many is such that they can hardly stand, to say nothing of work, and things are getting worse every day. Even the soldiers do not have sufficient food. They are not only sick of war, but thoroughly apathetic regarding it."

Joe Hill Hall, who may have served a useful purpose in his day in the very distant past, has done more to block progress than any man in Georgia public affairs. Called the "watchdog of the treasury," he has been a veritable dog in the manger. He opposed everything he did not originate himself, and has been careful not to originate anything of any merit.

These services will be conducted by Rev. Ray Palmer, D. D., an evangelist of wide experience and great power with men.

Dr. Palmer is at present, and has been for several years, on the evangelistic force of the Home Board of the Southern Baptist Convention. He has preached all over the Southland. Some of his former work was holding successful pastorates in the South and West. For several years he was with the J. Wilbur Chapman evangelistic force, with whom he traveled and preached all over the United States. I am happy to say that I know him well as a man and preacher and can assure you that there is a treat in store for you each afternoon and evening at the Stillmore Baptist church, May 26th and on through the meeting. Come hear him. Song service each evening at 7:45 o'clock.

The Farmer's Share

Live stock is marketed from farmer to consumer at a lower cost than almost any other farm product.

The United States Department of agriculture reported in 1916 that the farmer gets for his cattle "approximately two-thirds to three-fourths" of the final retail price paid by the consumer for the resulting beef.

Under normal conditions, the farmer's share of retail prices of various farm products is approximately as follows:

Butter	71 per cent
CATTLE	66½ to 75 per cent
Eggs	65 per cent
Potatoes	55 per cent
Poultry	45 per cent
Fruits	35 per cent

The difference between farmer's price and retail price represents the necessary expenses of packing, freight and wholesale and retail distribution.

Swift & Company not only performs the manufacturing operations of preparing cattle for market in its well-equipped packing plants, but it pays the freight on meat to all parts of the United States, operates 500 branch distributing houses, and in most cases even delivers to the retail butcher. All this is done at an expense of less than 2 cents per pound, and at a profit of only about ¼ of a cent per pound of beef.

Large volume of business and expert management, make possible this indispensable service to the live-stock raiser and to the consumer, and make possible the larger proportion of retail prices received by farmers.

TO PALE PEOPLE—YOUR BLOOD MAY BE STARVING FOR IRON!

If Your Blood Needs Iron, It Needs ZIRON, the New Compound of Iron, Which Acts as a Strengthening Tonic, Enriching the Blood and Building up the System.

When your blood lacks the proper proportion of red corpuscles to give your complexion the "rosy hue of health" and your complexion is pale, "pasty-looking," perhaps even greenish-tinged, you are probably of an anemic or chlorotic nature, and your blood needs Ziron, to bring back the rich, red flush of health.

Ziron, the new compound of iron, the hypophosphites of lime and soda, and other tonic, strengthening ingredients, has been found of great value in conditions of simple anemia, chlorosis, debility, nervousness, lack of ambition, loss of appetite, dyspepsia, etc. It is a valuable reconstructive tonic, in cases of weakness, and helps build up the constitution after severe illness.

Mrs. Mae Belle Perkins, of Adairsville, Ga., writes: "About two months ago I got to feeling badly. My back hurt me badly, and my legs and arms hurt too, and I didn't have any appetite at all to eat. About two weeks ago I commenced taking Ziron, according to directions on the bottle. . . . By the time I had taken the medicine for a week, I could see it was doing me good. I had been weak and nervous, and it made me feel stronger, and I'm not a bit nervous now. My back is all right, and my arms and legs do not ache. And my appetite is good again."

Before I started using Ziron I wouldn't rest at night, I was so tired feeling and felt worn out. I have used nearly the whole bottle and now I sleep fine every night. It sure is a fine medicine, and I am glad I tried it."

Ziron is non-alcoholic, contains no habit-forming drugs, acts gently, has no bad after-effects, is good for men, women and children. It is a medicine of genuine merit, composed of ingredients prescribed by eminent physicians. Try it.

SPECIAL OFFER: Buy a bottle of ZIRON, today, at your druggist's and give it a fair trial, according to directions on the label. After using up one bottle, if you find it has not benefited you, take it back to the druggist and he will refund what you paid him for it. We mean this, so there is no reason why he should not repay you. This offer only applies to the first trial bottle.

NONE ARE HELD FOR MURDER OF BEASLEY

WIFE AND COUSIN OF DEAD MAN ARE DIMISSED UPON PRELIMINARY HEARING.

Mrs. Sallie Beasley and Lem Beasley, wife and cousin respectively of Mannie Beasley, who was killed at his home near Rocky Ford on Saturday night two weeks ago, were discharged in the commitment hearing last Saturday. Two negro men also held upon suspicion, were discharged at the same time.

Mrs. Beasley left in company with her brothers, from Ocala, Fla., who came up to assist her in the defense. Deulanie and Renfro represented the defendants, and F. B. Hunter the prosecution.

Mannie Beasley, who was a blind man, was slain in the public road a short distance from his home while returning from Rocky Ford about 9 o'clock Saturday night. He climbed over the fence and proceeded a short distance toward his home before he fell. His outcries attracted attention, and his wife and a son about 14 years of age went to him. He could give no account of the shooting, and died in a few minutes.

Lem Beasley, who was a cousin of the dead man, was employed by him and lived in the home. It was reported that letters had passed between the dead man's wife and the cousin which was the ground for suspicion. It transpired, however, that these letters had been found in the road some distance away and had been lost out of the effects of some colored people who were moving along that way.

Another card from FOOD ADMINISTRATOR

Parties who want sugar for canning purposes can get it in 25 lb. lots by signing a certificate that it is to be used for that purpose. All merchants must furnish their own certificates for their customers and sell the sugar in 25 lb. lots or under from time to time as the purchaser needs it for canning purposes; not over 25 lbs. in one lot, but repeat the sale every day if the customer needs it that often to use in canning.

I have sent a copy of the form of the certificate to the county agents in the towns and trade sections of the county, where merchants can get a copy. Some of the merchants make complaint that it is a lot of trouble to have to write out the certificates. I will answer that it is nothing to compare with having to give up home and loved ones and go in the trenches.

The merchants must keep a copy of the certificate and send me, the county food administrator, on Monday of every week. Can send it in the envelope with his flour report.

Now, this does not interfere with selling sugar as to the lots to town and country people for table use, and I would advise merchants to be very cautious in carrying out the food laws, as I see where ten merchants from Jefferson county were summoned to Atlanta last week for violating the food laws and a fine of $25 was imposed on each to be paid to the Red Cross. It is a very easy matter for us to carry out the food laws by placing them foremost in our business. We should think of our motto be make provisions and whip the Germans.

Some of the merchants fail to make out their flour reports correctly. You must give the date of sale, the name of the party, postoffice, the number in family, the number of lbs. bought with cereal or corn, and not sell to any customer over 48 lbs. at one sale. If he is entitled to more than that for his monthly supply, let him come back and get the balance due him.

All reports must be made out on the form of the number of lbs. bought with cereal or corn, and not sell to any customer over 48 lbs. at one sale. If he is entitled to more than that for his monthly supply, let him come back and get the balance due him.

Monday of each week so that they will reach me on the day following Tuesday night that I may check them up on Wednesday. Some of the last reports did not get in until Saturday. I must say if they fail to come in on the proper time I cannot accept them and will have to reward them back to the "backwashers" in Atlanta.

Yours for honest business, J. W. WILLIAMS, County Food Administrator

STORAGE HOUSE

County Farm Demonstrator J. G. Liddell has made a study of the sweet potato storage house and secured the record of their results. From these records he is convinced that this is the only method whereby we can expect to save our potatoes. Where the potatoes are handled as they should be, the loss is practically nothing.

The old way of storing them in hills or banks, we lose anywhere from 25 per cent to all the potatoes. This last winter is a good example when practically all of the farmers lost all of their potatoes were stored in the hills. This crop does not bring its best price until after Christmas, and then we do not have any to sell. Then, again, if you go to the average farmer to buy potatoes he will say he hasn't got any to sell because he has not wanted to go to the trouble to dig down in the bank and separate the rotten ones out. If he had the house, he can go there and sell one bushel or any amount that he wants to without disturbing the ones left.

Now is the time to figure on this house, as this is the time we are planning and planning how many to plant. Mr. Liddell has plans for these houses and can give information as to how they should be built. There are already several interested and these who are should get in touch with him and let him show them the value of putting up one of these houses.

The house is not an experiment any longer, but has past that stage, as we have several in the state and they are giving entire satisfaction where they are handled right. Anyone who may want to know where these houses are situated so that they can get first hand information from the owners, ask Mr. Liddell. Let us get together and save the crop of potatoes in this county this year. We will need them for food.

COAL SITUATION IS NOT SATISFACTORY

IF WAR DEMANDS ARE TO BE MET, PRODUCTION MUST BE VERY MUCH INCREASED.

Philadelphia, May 28.—The production of coal in the United States for the year beginning April 1, must reach 735,000,000 net tons, J. D. A. Morrow, general director of distribution of the United States fuel administration today told the National Coal Association, in convention here. This means an increase of 85,000,000 tons over the production for the coal year 1917, if the war demands of the country are to be met. It is doubtful, Mr. Morrow said, if the production of anthracite coal can be increased over last year's total of 89,000,000 gross tons.

Therefore, the entire 85,000,000 tons must come from the bituminous regions. A survey of the war demand for coal by the United States fuel administration shows that the country will require during the present coal year 835,000,000 net tons of bituminous coal, Mr. Morrow said. During the last coal year the bituminous coal production was 551,000,000 net tons.

To meet these requirements it will be necessary to maintain an average weekly production of 12,600,000 tons of bituminous coal. This quantity has not been produced in any single week in the history of the bituminous coal industry. The record week's production was 11,825,000 tons, and the output of the bituminous mines for April, the first month of the new coal year, was 47,000,000 tons. If this rate of production should be maintained throughout the year the total output would only be 564,000,000 tons. Under the present estimates necessary consumption the country at this rate of production will face a shortage of 71,000,000 tons.

"We must, therefore, look to the bituminous mines for 85,000,000 tons more coal than their record output," Mr. Morrow said, and "you men ask, 'Can the railroads furnish the transportation to produce this tonnage?' That is a question that the railroad administration must answer. Our distribution managers and directors are in daily conference with railroad officials to insure the best use of transportation in moving coal. Therefore, it behooves the operators to stand prepared to deliver this coal should the roads prove able to haul it."

Although unofficial reports have mentioned the rushing up of reinforcements from the south, there has as yet been no official statement that Gen. Foch is sending in his reserves.

Of almost as grave interest as the Aisne battle is the situation around the little town of Catigny, where the Americans made a notable gain in their first "solo" attack against the Germans Tuesday. Numerous counter attacks have been launched against the Americans holding Catigny, but all have failed.

Unofficial praise has been accorded to the Americans by military officers for the dash and daring they showed when they left their trenches and started out in quest of their objectives.

Still another defeat has been inflicted on the enemy by the Americans, this time far to the east in the Toul sector. Here the Germans lost large quantities of gas near Brementhal and delivered an attack which the Americans shot to pieces with machine guns.

Paris, May 29.—After desperate resistance and fighting in the streets lasting several hours, the French have evacuated Soissons, which the Germans occupied, according to the official announcement from the war office tonight.

Berlin, May 29.—The number of prisoners taken by the Germans on the Aisne battle front has increased to 25,000, says the German official communication issued today. The prisoners include one French and one English general.

MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS OF FAIR ASSOCIATION

The regular annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bulloch Packing Co. will be held at the company's office at 10 o'clock a. m. Saturday, June 8, 1918, for the purpose of electing a board of directors and transacting such other business as might properly come before said meeting. All stockholders are urged to be present and those who do not attend in person should be represented by proxy.

GERMANS AGAIN
DRIVE AHEAD

THROWING FRESH DIVISIONS, ENEMY MAKES GAINS AT TREMENDOUS COST OF LIVES.

New York, May 29.—In their violent attacks on the thirty-five mile battle front running from Soissons eastward to the region northwest of Rheims, the German armies are continuing to force back the French and British forces on nearly every sector. The fortified town of Soissons, the extreme left flank of the allied battle line, has been occupied by the enemy, although the French are still holding tenaciously to its western extremity, through which emerge the railway lines leading to Paris and Compeigne.

According to the German official communication 25,000 prisoners, including a French and British general, have been taken and numerous additional towns and villages pointed out along the front have been captured. Seemingly Rheims, like Soissons, also is doomed to fall into the hands of the enemy, as the French war office says.

The number required to win was 850, from which it will be seen that the plan was lost by only 99 votes. A remarkable feature is the unanimity with which some of the districts voted for the measure while others voted as solidly against it.

Prof. Olliff states that another election will be asked for as soon as the required time has elapsed—one year. The vote by districts is as follows:

	For	Against
Sinkhole	37	55

(Savannah Press, Tuesday.)

Mr. E. B. Aycock and Mrs. Bessie Aycock, she being the wife of E. B. Aycock, Jr.

The record was announced by Prof. Monts at the closing exercises of the school Monday evening. Along with the figures also was announced the enrollment of the school for the past term, which is of itself another instance of "going over the top."
